Randall Clubs of Philadelphia, the former attired in a brownish-grey uniform, with cut-away coats, and headed by the famous Waccacoo band; the latter wearing siken badges, conspicuously lettered in gold bullion with the name of their favorite. Later in the day the New York County Democracy came in in a body, undistinguished by uniform, except as to hats. About 4 o'clock the McDonald Club of Indianapolis, two hundred and fifty strong, and bearing a large banner, on which was a portrait of the Indiana candidates, were escorted to the Palmer House. An hour later the Irving Hall delegation from New York, numbering 150, came by special train, and the list of important arrivals for the day closed at 6:30 by the appearance of Tammany Hall, occupying two special trains and numbering about 600. As its members marched up La Salle street, escorted by the Cook County Democratic Club and the Americus and Samuel J. Randall Clubs headed by the New York Seventh Regiment Band, they were largely conspicuous for their linen dusters and portmanteaus. The coming of this famous organization had been the anxious inquiry all day, and there was an unusually large gathering of people on the streets to see them.

It was stated to-day that Monsignor Capel, the Roman prelate, would be requested to open the Convention with prayer.

Kelly was called out of his car, and he spoke as follows: "Citizens of Rochester: Allow me to congratulate you on this evidence of what appears to be your interest in the political affairs of the nation. When I see so many anxious faces I take it that you are anxious to know whom Tammany Hall favors for President. Let me first ask you whom do you favor? [Loud cries of "Tilden," "Butler" and "Bayard."] We have been greeted all along the line by crowds of citizens since we left New York. It is safe to say that nine-tenths of all these people do not favor the nomination of Governor Cleveland for President. We believe it would be disastrous to the Democratic party to nominate him. I think that the opposition of the working classes, as recently manifested in the decided opposition to Cleveland, ought to have sold last Saturday at Sheriff's sale, to saturday at Sheriff's

At Utica, N. Y., the Tammany train was greeted by cannon and an immense crowd. John Kelly, in response to calls, appeared on the car platform, and in the course of his remarks said: "We are all Democrate, and are going to Chicago to nominate the next President. EDS. RECORD-UNION: Wednesday evening's programme was well planned and carmental duet on the piano and violin b Miss Anna Carpenter and Prof. J. N. Mar ning, then a brief prayer by Rev. Dr. Babb followed by Prof. Moses' second lecture on Christian revolution-"The Invaders of the Empire." It was very interesting to a lovers of history. The exercises closed with a vecal duet by Mrs. R. L. Higgins, or Santa Clara and Mrs. Blake Alverson. Thursday morning dawned with a clear sky, and all appreciated the comfort of the unshine. Botany, driving, bathing and gathering shells on the beach admirably ccupied the hours of leisure between the ctures, etc., and a delightful freedom was enjoyed by all. By 10 A. M. the chapel was well filled with a deeply interested audience. Miss J. Tuck performed a piano , after which a prayer was offer Rev. Dr. Babb. Next came a "convers tion" by Miss L. M. Washburn of the Cal fornia State Normal School, on the circul ion of the blood—"Its Muscular Mechan-cs." The muscular action of the heart and arteries was explained in a most lucid manner, and illustrated by means of blackboard sketches and a partially dissected beef's heart. Muscular contraction was also nicely shown by electricity applied to a toad's leg, which was the most available substitute for the usual frog. A song by Mrs. Higgins formed a very pleasing pre lude to the lecture on Africa, which was i rder at 11 A. M. Many visitors arrived on the afternoon and evening trains, and numerous tents were decorated with flags and evergreens in honor of the nation's birthday. The third and last lecture on Christian revolution-"Its Forces and Results," was lelivered by Prof. Moses in the evening, and an instrumental duet for piano and violin was finely rendered by Miss Carpenter and Prof. Manning. The apua salute, which was given with a will. Dr. Stratton announced a grand programm for to-morrow. Pacific Grove, July 3, 1884.

KILLED BY THE CARS .- The Galt Gazette of July 5th, says: "This morning about 4 o'clock James Romain was run over and killed by a freight train about 200 yards from the Galt depot. Romain and a companion had been drinking heavily during the night, and in an intoxicated condition wandered toward the railroad and took a perilous position between the rails, probably to sleep off the influence of the rum. KNOCKED FROM A CAR.-Saturday afternoon L. C. Roberts and another immigrant passenger on train No. 8, west-bound, tepped from the cars at a station about mile this side of the Summit, and when the train started up again they got upon a boxcar, instead of the caboose, and attempted to walk back to the latter on top of the cars. Mr. Roberts' companion realized soon that it was perilous to be moving in that manner, while the train was passing through the snow-sheds, and suggested that it would be well to sit down and wait unti the next station was reached. Just about the Librarian and Secretary to the Boa that time Mr. Roberts was struck by one of City Trustees, to be presented to-day: the supports of the shed and knocked from the car. The other man was afraid to move until the cars stopped, but then notified the conductor, who sent word to headquarters, and a locomotive was sent from the Sum it to find the unfortunate passenger. When found he was so badly hurt that he could not be put on the engine, but was conveyed to the Summit on a hand-car. It found that some of his ribs were broken, and it was feared that he had suf fered internal injuries, that would prov fatal. He had a ticket from Ogden, and i a member of the G. A. R.

A Street Affray.

Saturday afternoon a personal encounter ccurred between School Director Matthew Cooke and O. M. Adams, late Principal of the High School. Statements have been given to print that are contradicted by one or more of the parties interested. Last 17-foot 3-inch mark last evening. evening Mr. Cooke, and Professor Howe, as a friend for Mr. Adams, both presented statements for publication that in some material points contradicted each other as to what points contradicted each other as to what was said by the parties precedent to blows passing. Both gentlemen finally agreed that as the statements disagreed, the reporters should ascertain from E. Washburne, who was present, just what passed. Mr. Washburne states that on Saturday afternoon he was talking, at the corner of K and Second streets, with Mr. Cooke on business relating to Washburne's trade, when Mr. Howe and Mr. Adams, whom he, Washburne, had not previously known, came across the street ogether, and Mr. Cooke began to deliver a erbal message to Mr. Howe from his family at Monterey. Some words, not angry ones, then passed between Mr. Adams nd Mr. Cooke, that did not fix themselves upon Washburne's memory, as they were not thought by him important, when Mr. Cooke sa'd, in a remonstrating tone, that Adams was mistaken, for he, Cooke, had been his best friend in the matter. Mr.

Adams then said, "You are a liar, and you can take it any way you please." Cooke replied that he was not too old to resent an insult. Adams said to him, "You are an ignorant ass," and added in abstance that, in proof of it, "any ma who did business sixteen years and paid off at four cents on the dollar, was an licans will be held this evening at 8 o'clock ignorant ass, a robber and a cheat." Cooke replied that if he had met with misfortune it was not the result of his own acts. As Wednesday.

A caucus of the Second Ward Republicans will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the International Hotel dining-room, to select a ticket to be voted for at the primary Wednesday.

e spoke he stepped toward Adams, and added that he "would take no more abuse like that from a drunken —," applying a harsh term implying immoral conduct. Adams struck at the same instant with his ported that the weapon was discharged ane at Cooke, hitting him on the side of he head, and at almost the same instant looke struck Adams, and blows were exchanged and both men went lown in the scuffle. There was o kicking, as I have heard has been pubished, nor did I see any unfair advantage

"This morning about taken by either man. I was within three omain was run over and feet of the men and heard no mention o chool or school matters, and I am confi dent no mention of schools was made. must have heard it had anything been aid about schools. The chief points of difference between Howe's and Cooke's statement is, that Howe says Adams charged Cooke with having stated matters affecting his, Adams', Messrs. Gates & Decker, for the Oakland

Adams Washburne refers to. Evidently these statements present all sides of a scansible excuse for reference to which is the 'talk" the affair has made, and the publi cations concerning it here and abroad, and of which it is wholly unworthy, and be cause it appears to have grown out of the ssues between the Board of Education and the late Principal of the High School, and which have taken the form of personalitie hat are wholly inexcusable and the discussion of which cannot but injure the chools. Both the participants in th scrimmage" are reported by their friend as heartily sorry for their part in the affair which is some compensation to the public

JUST RECEIVED, MR. CRAWFORD'S BEST NOVEL, A ROMAN SINGER!"

AUTHOR OF 'MR. ISAACS," "DR. CLAUDIUS," AND "TO LEEWARD." 1 vol., 16 mo., $1 25.

The singer is the protege of a fallen noble, and the pupil of a great teacher, with a voice of celestial quality. He sees a German lady of high degree and worships from a distance, obtaining access to her in the guise of an Italian teacher. At length the moment arrives for which he has waited. He makes his debut in "Fayorita," and Mr. Crawford's description of the event, the audience and its enthusiasm, the little play behind the scenes, and the recognition of the poor though triumphant artist by the great lady, is one of the most powerfully written pictures we have met for a long time.—[The Knickerbocker (New York).

Of all Mr. Crawford's works the most interesting, captivating and masterly is "A Roman Singer."—[The Week (Toronto).
